

No one has yet been able to resist the siege for office at the white house. The bombardment is as fierce as ever.

Judge Doolittle is still willing to go to Russia, but President Cleveland doesn't seem to know that Wisconsin has such a product as James R. Doolittle.

It is to be hoped because everybody is interested in good government, that there will be enough inventive genius in this administration to keep it decently honest.

A dog fight the other day in New Orleans drew a much bigger crowd than the "Liberty bell" has done since Jeff Davis poured a benediction upon it two months ago.

The old time democrats who want to go far back to the days of Julius Caesar in their ideas of managing the affairs of the government, are not enthusiastic over President Cleveland.

An old patriarch died at Milan, Missouri, the other day at the age of 166. He had used liquor and tobacco incessantly for 75 years. This shows the beneficial effect of such indulgences.

When the cabinet met the other day, the president gave the members thereof to understand that there was a tenure-of-office law in existence. The bare mention of this sent a chill over the cabinet officers.

Frank Leslie publishes a very good picture representing Colonel Vilas. It doesn't look anything like the colonel, however, and therefore does not do him an injustice. The picture is good looking, so is the colonel, but in no way does one resemble the other.

Mr. Edwin Booth will give a series of farewell engagements before he quits the stage. As it takes about twenty years, according to the history of the past, to close a "farewell" engagement, Mr. Booth will not very soon rob the stage of its chief ornament for come time to come.

The Springfield (Massachusetts) Republican, which was energetic in its support of Cleveland, gives Dan Manning this first notice: Nobody knows him better than the president; nobody else probably would have chosen him for this position. Manning is simply one of the "onions" of the administration.

General Grant will finish his war memoirs in a few weeks, unless his health should fail him entirely. They will fill two large volumes very nearly the size of Shakespeare and will be sold for $3.50 a volume. They will be published early in the fall. Mark Twain is interested in the publication of the memoirs.

The Gazette some time ago showed that Mr. Cleveland, in order to supply the democrats with all the offices in one year, would have to remove one republican every two minutes for ten hours a day for one whole year, Sundays included and then would not finish the job. This shows how much work there is on hand for the new administration.

The latest discovery made by Colonel Bob Ingersoll that religion is a hoax, is his comparison of George Eliot with Queen Victoria. He says: "One is dead in robes of glory worn in the loom of her own genius. The other is a queen by blind fortune." Colonel Bob came as near proving there is no God by that comparison as a certain fellow said he came near killing a deer. When asked how near he came to killing the animal, he said, he had been seen in tracks in the snow.

A strange and interesting case of heredity comes from Pittsburgh, and is this: A man named Graves, whose father not only did not pay his debts, but stole money and committed murder, has just returned to his old home to pay off his father's creditors. Considerable difficulty was met with in finding them; but the son persisted and finally was able to remove the financial blot from his father's memory. Here is an interesting subject for anthropologists to delve into.

Dakota is a big territory, and notwithstanding its quarrels, its reputation and the bad repute of some of its carol commissioners, it has many things to be proud of. It has 2,600 miles of railway, more than any one of twenty old settled states. It has 3,000 school houses, more than any one of fifteen states. It has 375 newspapers, more than any New England state except Massachusetts, or any Eastern state except New York and Pennsylvania. In the number of post offices it ranks above twenty-three states and territories, and pays more money to the post office department than any one of thirty-two states, and it has a population as large as Nebraska or Connecticut, and nearly twice as large as Vermont or Florida. When the democrats in congress look at Dakota's school and newspaper, it is no wonder they vote against its admission into the Union. Too much republican seed there.

T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia, have in press and will issue in a few days, Mrs. Ann S. Stephens' new society novel entitled "The Reigning Belle," which will be found to be one of the most powerful, original and exciting novels ever published. Every page teems with intense, absorbing interest, which is maintained without a break. The plot is thrilling, intricate and managed with consummate art, the reader being kept in complete ignorance of what the end is to be until it comes. "The Reigning Belle" will be published in one large duodecimo volume, at the low price of seventy-five cents a copy, and is certain to find hosts of readers, for it possesses every requisite to delight and fascinate them all. Mrs. Stephens, as a writer, ranks among the best of all American authors, and "The Reigning Belle" and her other novels should be read by every lover of absorbing fiction, for they are among the best and most popular published, and will be found for sale by all booksellers everywhere.

NELLIE HOBAN ACQUITTED.
The trial of Miss Nellie Hoban, at Elkhorn, charged with poisoning her sister Anna, came to an abrupt termination on Wednesday.

There was very strong circumstantial evidence against Miss Hoban; but to prove that she administered the strychnine to Anna was a thing the prosecution could not do. It is generally believed that Nellie had something to do with Anna's death, but to prove it satisfactory to a jury was a difficult thing to do. When the prosecution had rested, its case, the attorney for the defense moved for a non-suit, but the court over ruled the motion. The defense then made a very shrewd movement, that of submitting no testimony and allowing the case to go to the jury without argument which was done, and in two hours the jury returned a verdict of not guilty. Whatever opinion the jury may have had as to the guilt or innocence of the prisoner, they had no alternative but to return a verdict of not guilty, as the instructions from the bench virtually compelled such a verdict.

THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE BILL.

When the agricultural college bill came up in the assembly as a special order on Wednesday there was a strong effort to defeat it—chiefly for two reasons: (1) because such a college was not regarded as necessary or practical; and (2) because of the heavy expense required in building the college and keeping it in running order.

Mr. Norcross opposed the bill for five reasons which are here given: (1) He did not believe the farmers of Wisconsin, as a class, wanted the measure to pass; (2) he did not believe it would accomplish the ends sought to be attained; (3) an increase of farmers was not necessary or desirable—that was a thing that had best regulate itself; (4) it was not a true to spend money in this experiment, when there was an enormous and increasing demand on the state treasury; (5) we should not establish any school of this kind until we know something more about this sort of instruction, what it is capable of what the experience of other states has been with these schools.

In his argument against the bill Mr. Norcross said that in Massachusetts, the state agricultural college was tottering in decay, and the legislature has finally cut it off from any state aid. In Iowa, the institution was a wasteland. In Michigan, not one agricultural graduate in four ever went back to the farm. He also said that the agricultural college now in existence at the state university was a good one, probably as good as was practical. As for Wisconsin farmers he contended that they were a very intelligent and progressive people and did not wish the bill.

OUR UNFORTUNATE, THE INSANE.

The first biennial report of S. B. Backmaster, M. D., superintendent of the Wisconsin state hospital for the insane, has just been issued. It is a very interesting document as it deals with the condition of the most unfortunate of all the wards of the state.

The State hospital was opened in 1850, and since that time 3,876 patients have been treated. Of that number 1,080 were discharged having recovered, 872 materially improved, 870 did not improve, and 514 died. To show the efficiency of the hospital treatment, it is only necessary to state that the percentage of all recoveries on the admissions from the beginning being 27.4; and of those who had been insane less than three months nearly 40 per cent. recovered.

The total number of inmates in the hospital on the 30th of September, 1884, was 537, of which 269 were males, and 268 were females. The average daily attendance for 1884 was 510, and for 1885, it was 476. The hospital is very much crowded, especially the winter department, and every month brings fresh cases to the hospital. It will be long before additional room will be demanded for the increased number of inmates. In fact it is demanded now, but the legislature has not seen fit to make an appropriation for a third hospital.

The number of new cases admitted to the hospital since 1876, is 1,708, and it is interesting to note the attributed cause of insanity in the foregoing number of admissions. Of this number, 562 were males and 726 were females. There are 57 causes given of insanity, and of them, hereditary sends the most victims to the hospital—25, of which 16 were males and 22 females. Intemperance sends only 10 and all were males. Severely one became insane from unknown causes and of this number 62 were males and 19 females.

Under the superintendency of Dr. Backmaster the state hospital is being admirably managed, and in every department is felt the excellent effects of his administration.

When medical science admitted that Rheumatism and Neuritis had their seat in the blood, it remained to find a successful remedy for the poisonous acid which caused them. That remedy has been found. It has been named Atrophor, which is a Greek word composed of atros, a prize, and phoros, to bear away, that is "bearing away the prize." And this it does both in promptitude and final efficiency. Says Mrs. Eliza Evans, of Upper Derby, Delaware county, Penn.: "After the third dose of Atrophor I rested better than I had done for months."

Prentice & Breason distinctly state that Atrophor's English remedy has and does cure contracted consumption. Ask for circular. An entirely new medicine, guaranteed.

TROUBLE WITH TOILERS.

MISSOURI PACIFIC STRIKERS GAIN THEIR POINT.

Judge Treat Comes to the Assistance of the Wabash—Defying the Governor of Texas—The Great Colliery Strike in Pennsylvania.

St. Louis, March 12.—At a meeting of the St. Louis shippers of the Missouri Pacific road, held Wednesday night, a notice was read from the railroad company restoring the wages of the men to the amounts they received before the 10 per cent. reduction.

The officers of the Wabash road applied to Judge Treat for protection at Hannibal, Mo., and the judge ordered the United States marshal to take sixty deputies to that place and enforce the law. The company's strikers are not disposed to pay any attention to it. Anxious crowds of people assembled at the company's yards all day. An engine was fired up under the direction of Gould directors for the purpose of starting a freight train. Suddenly, by some mysterious process, the throttle flew up, the water valve flew open, and the engine was dead on the track. No freight have yet been moved. No material change is reported from any point on the line.

Sedalia, Mo., March 12.—The situation here as regards the strike remains practically unchanged. There are no demonstrations of violence. An agreement was entered into Tuesday as the request of the adjacent general to allow freight trains to move. Two freight trains, west-bound on the Pacific, which were made up noon Wednesday, failed to go out, because the engineers were requested to leave their engines, which they did. A report that the militia has been ordered here occasioned considerable suppressed excitement. Every one predicts, however, that should the military be ordered here there will be trouble.

The Great Colliery Strike.
Pittsburgh, March 12.—The situation among the striking miners remains no more favorable, and is practically unchanged. Several mines that were working Tuesday shut down Wednesday morning, but in no way affected the general condition of affairs. Meetings of operators were held at the coal exchange Wednesday, and was attended by nearly all the members of the exchange. The strike was discussed in a general way, and as a result the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, Owing to the recent reduction in mining cost in some of the valleys and Kanawha, with which our coal companies are in competition, it is impossible for the Pittsburgh coal operators to advance the price of mining.

WATCHING THE DYNAMITERS.

The Canadian Premier Makes a Statement—Numerous Threats Received.

OTTAWA, Ont., March 12.—Sir John A. Macdonald stated before the public accounts committee Wednesday morning when the sum of $8,000 expended on account of secret service was under discussion, that the government had received threatening letters, and public buildings had to be watched in consequence. The threat of a bomb being thrown at the prime minister, and the receipt of communications, both from United States and British authorities asking his government to take every precaution. Threats of dynamite explosion, and many quarters, but the only one so far that had been carried out was the one in which the Quebec parliament buildings were wrecked. The government had been warned of this attack but it paid little attention to it until the threat was carried out. Within a short time the superintendent of the Dominion police has visited New York twice, and a number of agents are at the point of service of the Canadian government are stationed at different points in the United States to report any information they may obtain in regard to the movements of dynamiters.

Conscience Forced Him to Confess.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., March 12.—William J. Adams, a convict from Tennessee, as the confessed murderer of Moses B. Dickinson, of Amherst in 1877, was arraigned in the district court, pleaded not guilty, and the hearing was adjourned.

Sherridge in an Ohio Treasury.
CINCINNATI, Ohio, March 12.—The doors of the treasury office of this city have been closed for the past two days by the county commissioners, who have been carefully looking after the second shortage in the money vault. As the matter stands now the deficit is $14,622. There promises to be a lively time between the directors of the two treasuries.

I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Backlin's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and Electric Bitters are sold at 50 cents a bottle, and Backlin's Arnica Salve at 25c per box by F. The United States is said now to be the third largest silk manufacturing country in the world, and this despite all that has been said and written to discourage the raising of silk in this country. The value of our annual silk product is now placed at $25,000,000. About 60,000 pounds of cocoons were raised in 1883.

George R. Davis declines to be a candidate for mayor of Chicago because of factions in the Republican party, although a leading banker tendered him $30,000 as a campaign fund. James A. The president thinks smoking in business hours is unbusinesslike, and it has been forbidden in the White House. In regard to smoking in business hours there was no uniform rule under the late administration. It was forbidden in the treasury and department of justice, and allowed in the interior and postoffice departments. It will probably soon be under the ban in all of them. The president is understood to have the White House clerks should get to their desks an hour after he gets to his, and they will therefore be on duty at 8 o'clock. There are indications that in a short time all the department will open for business at 8 o'clock. If the hours of clerical labor are also prolonged half an hour or an hour in the afternoon, so as to make eight hours a day's work, it is obvious that all the work now done could be accomplished by a greatly reduced clerical force.

Mr. Lamont said that the reduction in the clerical force in the White House was made in the interest of economy, and, therefore, the employees would be required to fill the vacancies created. He said that there might possibly be one or two more changes in the personnel of the force, but that would be all. Since President Cleveland's inauguration, the entire clerical force, including the private secretary, has been busily engaged from 8 o'clock in the morning until midnight, and it is expected that the rush of business will compel the continuance of these working hours for some time to come.

Mr. Grant's Illness Causes to Cause Anxiety - Steve Elkins' Cancer Doctor.

NEW YORK, March 12.-Gen. Grant continues to grow better, said Col. Fred Grant, Wednesday afternoon. "During the early part of the week he was somewhat better, but after the doctor left, at about 11 o'clock, he fell asleep, and did not wake until daylight. He ate quite a hearty breakfast at about 8 o'clock, and had the morning papers read to him. I have not yet been in to see him myself, but I have been to buy with the friends of the family who are in the house that I have not had time to even upon the morning's mail." And the young colonel showed a large bundle of letters and papers that he held in his hand. "There is no longer the slightest anxiety felt in the family concerning my father's condition. You know he has been steadily getting better; I can not get well, but he is very contented if he will ever get well again, but for five weeks he has been growing better each day, and I may say that he is now very comfortable."

There is a good deal of talk about the appointment of Frank Blair as solicitor general.

Secretary Lamar said that Judge McCammon, attorney general for the interior department, was not to be nominated.

Only two nominations were sent to the senate Wednesday by the president. They were Edward D. Clark, of Mississippi, to be assistant secretary of the interior, and Sidney D. Jackson, of Texas, to be United States marshal at Chicago.

Mr. Clark is 42 years of age, and is a native of Mississippi. He is a graduate of the University of Mississippi, and has been practicing law for many years. He is a member of the Mississippi bar, and has been admitted to the practice of law in several other states.

Mr. Jackson is 35 years of age, and is a native of Texas. He is a graduate of the University of Texas, and has been practicing law for many years. He is a member of the Texas bar, and has been admitted to the practice of law in several other states.

There was some disappointment when the nominations were received. A long list was expected, but instead of this only four names were submitted. It is felt that it is a general feeling that none other than the few appointments which are absolutely necessary will be made until the mass of office-seekers have retired to their respective homes.

Upcoming nominations showed a purpose to fill the vacant positions in the interior department. The crowds that have awaited the morning secretary's daily arrival in the morning and lingered all day hereafter, were not to be seen, and the secretaries were allowed some opportunity for transacting office business.

Vice President Hendricks recently applied to Postmaster General Vilas to have a friend appointed to the position of superintendent of the free delivery of mail at Chicago, to take the place of a Republican incumbent. Mr. Vilas, upon inquiry, learned the above named officer was usually appointed by the Chicago postmaster, and so informed Mr. Hendricks he could not interfere.

The Wisconsin Democratic congressmen have not prepared a slate or otherwise taken concerted action, but the leading candidates for Wisconsin office are based by various members of the delegation and are as follows: Marshal of the eastern district, Geo. West and Jefferson Kitchin, of Milwaukee, and Fred W. Horn, of Cedarburg, for postmaster at Milwaukee; A. Warren Phelps, George H. Paul, and Ed. Wall for collector of the port of Milwaukee; Curtis Mann, of Oconomowoc, for district attorney, Messrs. E. C. Chapin, Hoyt, and Schley, all of Milwaukee.

At present there is being made by prominent Democrats, with Mr. Randall at their head, to secure the appointment of Joseph S. Milley, of West Virginia, as commissioner of internal revenue. The president has not yet returned to a decision with regard to filling this place, and it is not likely the nomination will be sent to the senate before the end of the week. Milley, who is thought to be Thompson's strongest competitor for the position, has been auditor of West Virginia the past eight years.

Senate Committee Reorganization.

WASHINGTON CITY, March 12.-The Republican caucus of senators Wednesday received and adopted the report of the caucus committee, on the reorganization of the standing and select committees for the Forty-ninth congress.

Senators were particularly persistent respecting the changes made in the committee on the part of the caucus committee, when appealed to by a representative of the United Press, endeavoring to persuade Senator Don Cameron, secretary of the caucus committee, to release the revised list for publication, but without success.

The full lists will show but few changes of importance. These will be as follows: Sewall of New Jersey, will be chairman of the committee on military affairs, vice Logan of Michigan; and the committee on the committee on postoffice and post roads, vice Hill; Tolson of Colorado, will be chairman of the committee on mines and mining; Pike of New Hampshire, of the committee on claims; Palmer of Michigan, of fish and fisheries; and Wilson of Iowa, of relations of the laws. Senator Evans will be a member of the committee on foreign relations and judiciary.

The chairmanships of the large committees, such as agriculture, commerce, judiciary and commerce will remain the same as during the Forty-eighth congress.

On the part of the minority the most important changes will consist of the placing of Mr. Clegg, and Mr. Harris on the judiciary committee to succeed Mr. Chandler and Mr. Lamar; Vance of Finance, to succeed Bayard; Ransom as chairman of private land claims, vice Bayard, and Kennan of West Virginia, and Jones of Florida, as members of the committee on commerce.

Mrs. Hendricks Receives.

WASHINGTON CITY, March 12.-Mrs. Hendricks and the ladies of the new cabinet families left their first reception. Wednesday afternoon, and the occasion brought out all the congressional, official, and society people remaining in town. Mrs. Hendricks received in her parlor at Willard's and had a crowded room during the entire hour of the afternoon. Her toilet was a short dress of maroon velvet, and her parlor was made fragrant by bouquets of large roses. Among her early callers were Mrs. Logan, and later in the coming and going of the side entrance of the house, Mrs. McMichael, Mrs. Angus Cameron, Mrs. George B. Loring, Mrs. MacArthur, and others prominent in the society of the former administration.

The Haven Court-Martial.

WASHINGTON CITY, March 12.-The general court-martial convened for the trial of Gen. Hazen, chief signal officer of the army, met in this city Wednesday morning. Gen. Hancock presiding. Counsel for Gen. Hazen challenged Brig. Gen. McFadyen as a member of the court on the ground of unfriendly relations between them growing out of his (Hazen's) criticisms of the substance department of the army, of which Gen. McFadyen is the head, when he (Hazen) was endeavoring to abolish the system of post-graduations in the army. The defense demurred to the specifications, but was overruled, and the accused pleaded not guilty. McFadyen was dropped from the court.

The Senate Proceedings.

WASHINGTON CITY, March 12.-In the senate, Wednesday, Van Wyck offered a resolution directing the secretary of the interior to prevent the Atlantic & Gulf Transit company from disposing of lands granted to it by congress in 1860 until congress should have acted upon the matter. The senate held an executive session, but did not confirm the following nominations, sent in by the president: Edward D. Clark, of Mississippi, to be assistant secretary of the interior; Sidney D. Jackson, of Texas, to be marshal of United States, western district of Texas; Lieut. Dennis L. Wilson, junior grade, to be lieutenant. Ensign Henry T. Mayo, to be a lieutenant, junior grade.

Gave Him a Hot Place.

WASHINGTON CITY, March 12.-The secretary of the treasury has appointed Mr. Eugene Higgins, of Baltimore, to be chief of the appointment division of the treasury.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Doty, South Main street, was made all the happier yesterday, by the arrival of a bonny ten-pound baby-boy.

Several members of W. H. Sargent Post No. 20, G. A. R., attended a "camp fire," of A. D. Hamilton Post No. 60, at Milton last evening, and had a patriotic time.

A young lady of Elgin is visiting her parents in the second ward, and "they say" she is making preparations for a Hughes's affair, that is to occur in a couple of weeks.

A huge pile of ashes, etc., on River street, in front of the city hall, the accumulation of the past winter, is an eyesore to many who pass that way, and wonder why things are thusly.

Bennett, the gentlemanly conductor of the American express wagon, points to his new iron-gray Norma with a contented smile, and "How do you like him?" He's a nice one, the horse means.

There are now thirty-eight electric lights in the city four being in the street, two on West Milwaukee street, and two on South River street, one being in front of Winslow's C. O. D. store, the other in front of the new rink.

We were misinformed yesterday, when we stated that No. 1 hose cart took the lead in the race down Main street yesterday morning in responding to the alarm of fire. We should have said No. 2, which was the fact.

Mr. Joseph Wright died suddenly this afternoon, of pneumonia. Deceased was a gardener, residing a short distance beyond the city limits, on Milton avenue.

He leaves a family, consisting of a wife and nine children. The funeral announcement has not been made.

An electric light is being placed over Milwaukee street, from Britton & Kimball's furniture store to the Phoenix block, and will probably be lighted this evening.

The electric light at the corner of Milwaukee and Franklin street, last evening showed up to good advantage.

Mr. Fred A. Quinn, of the Elgin Watch factory, is in the city to-day called here to attend the funeral of the late James A. Webb.

For several years Mr. Quinn was in Mr. Webb's employ, and served an apprenticeship with him, and has ever since held him as one of his most intimate friends.

The Milwaukee Sentinel's Washington correspondent, speaking of Wisconsin office seekers, and the Janesville post-office, says:—"A. W. Reddy, of Janesville, is spoken of, for the position there or a consular abroad. He is a relative of Mr. Butler, of the Buffalo News, who has been a persistent Cleveland boomer from the first."

This morning Mr. Alex. Bell, of Johnston, received some twenty-five or thirty head of stock cattle, which he had purchased in Chicago, for the purpose of fattening on his farm.

While driving the cattle through the city, a shepherd dog, belonging to Mr. Bell, attracted considerable attention. The dog appeared to understand driving cattle as well, if not better, than the man. The dog was well trained, and must be of great value to the owner.

The Rockford Register: "The St. Paul railroad station agents draw their salary now under a new rule. Their salary is reduced 10 or 15 per cent and a commission is paid on way and excursion tickets sold. The Freeport Journal presents the schedule thus: Supposing an agent's salary has been $125 per month and his ticket sales about $1,300 per month, the company makes his fixed salary about $110, which, if sales keep up at last year's average, will make his salary with the percentage, $128.50 per month. If he sells $250 worth of tickets more per month, the salary becomes $135. It is to give an incentive for increasing the fixed salary being paid low enough to have a margin for increase of sales before the old salary is reached. It is virtually a cut in salaries, for last year was a particularly heavy one in local traffic, being campaign year, and it is doubtful whether an agent, labor hard as he may, can make the old salary."

The Weather.

At seven o'clock this morning the thermometer indicated 30 degrees above zero. Cloudy, with northeast wind. At one o'clock p. m. the register was 41 degrees above zero. Cloudy with north wind. For the corresponding hours one year ago the register was 11 and 30 degrees above zero.

IN COELO QUIES.

In my dream we stood on a foreign shore, Where evergreen heights were strewn.

With a mystic trail from the pale and moon, Whose flitting folds would part too soon,

And leave me alone and afraid.

You led me on in a magic spell, On a by a mighty river

Where countless tide rose high, and fell At my very feet with a lulling swell.

Thou wert my poor heart's requiem.

This mad black stream of antebellum deep Second forever to me may say:

You could not come and I could not go, No boat could brave its wraithful flow;

You called and I could not stay.

My feet were buried on the cruel strand, My poor heart wild with a strange unrest;

I knelt to pray like a tired child, No longer to lean on my mother's breast;

You reached your arms and smiled.

I threw myself on the merciless wave, You created forward my willow;

Your voice inspired my heart to brave The cold dark waters a nameless grave;

The fury of that mad billow.

I dated on to the tide where you stood— On beautiful side of the sea,

You gathered me then to your throbbing breast; My tired heart found welcome rest

For death had set me free.

OBITUARY.

MRS. A. HYATT SMITH.

In the death of Mrs. A. Hyatt Smith, Janesville loses another of its early pioneers, one who took an active part in building the foundation of Janesville society, and has ever taken a deep interest in matters pertaining to the improvement of the moral and religious tone of the community.

Anna Margaret Cooper Kelly was born in Philadelphia, August 31st, 1815, her father, Philip Kelly being the first wholesale dealer in boots and shoes in that city. The deceased was married in New York city, April 4th, 1835 to Abraham Hyatt Smith. The fruits of this marriage being eight children, three of whom survive the mother. Mary Cooper Smith, James Maurice Smith, Mrs. Anna Kate, wife of Mr. Chas. E. Patterson. She with her surviving husband removed from New York to Janesville in November, 1842, and since that time had been prominently identified with the growth and prosperity of our beautiful city. Deceased had been a great sufferer for over thirty years, her disease being neuralgia of the heart, baffling the most skillful physicians and the most tender care. Her surviving children have lost a loving and prying mother, one who lived in constant communion with her Redeemer. For many years she had been prevented from joining in the public worship of God, but her heart was with His people when they met and worshipped together.

The funeral will take place at Trinity church at two o'clock to-morrow afternoon, Rev. Dr. J. P. Conover conducting the services.

HONORABLE TALENT.

Prof. Babb's Concert at Cannon's Hall, Last Evening.

Mr. O. R. Dahl gave his concert last night in Cannon's hall, to a small but intelligent and appreciative audience. He was assisted by Misses Christine Peterson, Emma Joselyn, Gertrude Wheeler, and Jennie Goodrich, of Janesville; Miss Joanne Merrill, of Beloit; and Miss Nellie Booth, of Monroe. They had an excellent programme, and when we heard that they all did splendidly, we but echo the sentiment of those who heard them last night. Mr. Dahl played two very difficult violin solos, in which he showed us some of his artistic attainments, such as arpeggio bowing and pizzicatos with the left hand. Besides playing them with accuracy and artistic intelligence, he showed that his stay with the great masters in Cincinnati has not been in vain. He also proved that he is an able and conscientious teacher, for his pupils, Misses Wheeler and Booth, each played an intricate solo in such a manner that it brought the house down, and they each had to respond to a hearty encore. Miss Wheeler played on a violin just made by her father, and it is a gem, both in tone and appearance. Miss Goodrich is a pupil of Miss Wheeler, and played a violin duet with her teacher, in a very creditable manner.

Miss Merrill, from Beloit, was a genuine surprise to us. We had heard that she was a good pianist, but had no idea that she was such an artist as she proved herself to be. She played Polonaise No. II by Liszt, which is immensely difficult.

Miss Peterson and Miss Joselyn are so well known here that it is needless to say much about them. Miss Peterson was in good voice and sang two solos; one English with violin obligato, and a little Swedish gem. She has a beautiful voice and uses it with feeling and intelligence; she and Miss Joselyn sang a very pretty duet together, and Miss Joselyn sang a solo, "Who'll Buy my Blackberries," in such a manner that it pinned us to know that the season did not allow us to have any. The last number on the programme was a symphony, arranged by Dancla, of the French conservatory, for two violins, Misses Booth and Wheeler, and piano, Miss Merrill, which was rendered in a perfect manner, and was heartily applauded.

Musically the concert was a great success, but it is a pity that our Janesville people should not appreciate home talent enough to turn out and give them a crowded house.

The funeral of the late James A. Webb.

The funeral of the late James A. Webb took place at the Congregational church at three o'clock this afternoon, and was attended by a very large number of sympathizing friends of the family, and the Janesville Sack company, of which the deceased had been an active member for ten years, (and at the time of his death was an honorary member) attended in a body, including a number of the honorary members of that organization.

Rev. A. J. Van Wagner preached the funeral discourse, and the song service was rendered by a quartet consisting of Mrs. J. W. St. John, Mrs. C. E. Moseley, and Messrs. Wm. Bladen and N. Smith. The remains were taken to Oak-hill cemetery for interment, Messrs. J. A. Denniston, J. C. Rehn, A. H. Sheldon, J. T. Wright, John M. Whitehead, being the pall-bearers.

A Couple of Miscreants Sentenced.

GREENE, Ont., March 12.—J. P. Armstrong and George Buck, noted desperadoes, were arraigned in court Wednesday charged with highway robbery. The crime was committed in December last. The victim was a well-to-do man who was robbed of $2,000 and left bound to a tree, where it was thought he would die, as night was coming on with the thermometer below zero. Both accused pleaded guilty and were sentenced to fourteen years in the penitentiary. Thomas Little, one
